Legion Commander Pledges Universal Military Training As Goal; Big Convention Over

Seaborn P. Collins, New Mexico Building Contractor, New Chief; Denies Americanism Program is 'Blueprint for Vigilante Action'

By DAYTON MOORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Seaborn P. Collins started his new duties as national commander of the American Legion today with the establishment of a Universal Military Training program as his main goal.

Collins, 41-year-old Las Cruces, N. M., building contractor and World War II air transport pilot, was elected unanimously at the close of the Legion's 36th annual convention here late Thursday.

He pledged his best efforts to carry out a convention resolution making UMT the No. 1 item on the Legion's national legislative program.

"I have become increasingly convinced that UMT is the only fair and effective way of providing the manpower to insure America's safety in this time of dangerous international tensions," Collins said.

Denies Vigilante Aim
In a radio broadcast Thursday night, Collins declared that it is "treason" to have "less than love for our country." But he denied that the Legion's Americanism program is a "blueprint for vigilante action."

"It strives only to extend the influence of its preoccupation with the welfare of our country to all our countrymen," Collins said.

In addition to again giving UMT a strong endorsement, the Legion at the final convention session:

Expressed concern that the Republican administration may be replacing a defense policy of "massive retaliation" with a diplomatic policy of "massive appeasement."

The administration was urged to tell Russia and Red China that any further Communist aggression in Asia means all-out war with "weapons of our choice."

Urges Diplomatic Break
Urged the administration to "seriously consider" breaking off relations with Russia and its Red satellites, and pledged Legion approval if such action should be deemed necessary.

Commended the work of anti-Communist congressional investigating committees, including the one headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Reiterated opposition to recognition of Red China or its admission to the United Nations.

Historical Society's Tuesday Meeting Near Thompsonville

The September meeting of the Saline County Historical society will be held at Liberty church two and one-half miles southeast of Thompsonville Tuesday evening.

To reach Liberty church turn left off Route 34 on the over-pass before entering Thompsonville; look for the Liberty church sign. The church is located one mile from Route 34 on a good all-weather road.

Extensive preparations have been made to make this final field meeting both interesting and entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Altire and Mrs. Perry Thompson have made numerous contacts with local residents to assure an outstanding meeting.

At Liberty church the first settlement in Franklin county was made. The land at that time was a verdant land of great promise; lush prairies with grasses that grew eight feet tall, flowers blooming in profusion, wild fruits and game abundant for food. Here also lurked the savage, flies, and malaria.

To this land in 1804 came hardy pioneers from the hills of Tennessee to open the way for the first wave of immigration into the country.

Along the Kaskaskia-Shawneetown Trail, at that time only an Indian trail, came seven Jordan brothers, led by Frank Jordan, and John and William Browning, William Barbary, and the Estes family.

Tecumseh, the great Shawnee chief, resented the encroachment of the whites onto his hunting ground and began planning for his great Indian confederacy to drive the whites out of the Mississippi Valley, making a trip through southern Illinois to stir up the Indians against the early settlers.

The story of the hardships of these early families combined with the stories of the McCreerys, McAnalys, Marvels, Mitchells, Yosts, Tates, Kays, Newmans, Ings, Poindexters and others assure the society and guests of a thrilling adventure into the past.

The congregation at Liberty church, organized 1825, has extended an invitation to the society to use their beautiful church grounds for the meeting. A short tour will be taken to the site of Jordan's Fort, the first cemetery, the site of the first church and school at 6 p. m. At 6:30 the potluck supper will be spread on long tables supplied by the church.

Only a few chairs are available and it is suggested that members and guests who have folding chairs bring them.

The society extends an invitation to members and friends and gives special invitation to interested residents of the surrounding community to attend.

He was a brother of Mrs. John Riley, Eldorado, and of Mrs. Andrew Turner of Shawneetown.

It's Surprising What Turns Up in Classifieds
Every day The Daily Register classified ads turn up some unexpected and surprising information. Today it is the fact that there are 150 parakeets, all colors, within two blocks of the high school and within four blocks of the McKinley school.

What a sight that will be for the little ones at McKinley if their teachers take them on a sight seeing walk, but if they do they will have to hurry for Register classifieds get results and those parakeets won't be there long.

History: World War II Started 15 Years Ago

By United Press
Fifteen years ago today Britain and France went to war against Germany. World War II had begun.

Remember?
The streamer headlines in the New York Herald Tribune read: "Great Britain Declares War on Germany."

"Mussolini Urges Parley, Hitler Considers It."
"Poland Reports 1,500 Killed in Air Raids."

In New York a girl named Mary Martin was wowing them with a song called "My Heart Belongs to Daddy." A few blocks away, Talulah Bankhead was emoting in Lillian Hellman's "The Little Foxes."

In London the double-deck buses halted in the middle of streets and people clustered around radios in brilliant sunshine at 11 a. m. to listen to Neville Chamberlain, the man with the umbrella.

"As a result of this (Hitler's) ignoring Britain's ultimatum on Poland," he was saying, "I regret to tell you that a state of war now exists between this country and Germany."

Queues wound from schools throughout the city. The children were leaving. Gas masks were distributed from civil defense centers already sandbagged against bombing.

In Berlin Adolf Hitler was leaving for the Polish front. The anti-aircraft guns were going up on the Reichstag. Even Goering felt uneasy about his boast that no bombs would drop on Germany.

There was a blackout for the third straight night. The headlines screamed: "England Has Dropped the Mask."

In Washington, Congress was in recess. Franklin Roosevelt issued a statement from the White House. He said he was hopeful the United States "will keep out of the war."

He ordered the State and Justice departments to get together on a detailed neutrality program.

It was a lovely day in Paris. People were coming back from

Highways to Be Jammed During Labor Holiday

Plenty of Attractions; Predict 25 Traffic Deaths in Illinois

By United Press
Close to a million-and-a-half motorists will jam Illinois highways during the Labor Day weekend beginning today, forewarned that 25 of them will die unless they are careful.

There was plenty to attract the holidaying millions across the state—reunions, homecomings, fairs, centennials and Labor Day parades and celebrations.

The weatherman forecast partly cloudy skies Saturday and Sunday, with warm temperatures ranging into the 90s over most of the state both days. Showers were expected in northwestern and west-central Illinois Saturday.

The grim accident statistics were forecast by the Chicago Motor Club, which said 25 would die in traffic mishaps, 701 would be injured, and property damage would be more than $750,000. Six of the deaths were predicted for Chicago, 19 downstate.

Twenty-five thousand people are expected to attend the Progressive Mine Workers annual Labor Day celebration, held in conjunction with a homecoming at Bend, Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell and PMW President William R. Crompton will speak.

The three-day tri-state oil show begins Saturday at Grayville. A queen of the show, selected from Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky entrants, will be selected Sunday night. Monday Cong. Charles W. Vorse (R-Salem) will address the visiting oilmen and the queen's ball will be held.

The Du Quoin State Fair and Pana's tri-county fair will run thru the week-end.

Postpone Eight-Power Conference for While

BONN, Germany (U.P.)—Great Britain and West Germany have agreed to postpone the proposed eight-power conference on European defense at least until the end of September to permit detailed diplomatic preparation for this foreign ministers meeting, informed sources said today.

Warsaw was in terror. Public transport stumbled. Electricity failed. Panicked housewives emptied stores. The government was trying to mobilize the army but the highways and railroads to the frontier already were in rubble. Warsaw lasted against the panzers 32 more days.

In Rome Benito Mussolini rattled the sword in Palazzo Venezia and talked with Hitler by telephone. Il Duce ordered the blackout ended and the lights came on again in the Eternal City. Italy was not going to fight yet.

In Moscow the men in the Kremlin were silent. Josef Stalin was playing the waiting game.

Charge Killed Wife, Faked Road Accident

Husband Received $18,000 Insurance Past Ten Years

RALEIGH, Miss. (U.P.)—Ross Hawkins, 59, who had received $18,000 in insurance benefits in the past 10 years, was charged Thursday night with beating his recently insured wife to death and faking a highway accident to cover the crime.

Sheriff A. E. Bounds said the baldish Hawkins had been charged with murder and arson in the death of his wife, Jessie, 50, in their burning car on a lonely road Aug. 20.

The sheriff said Hawkins had collected a total of $18,000 insurance for his 17-year-old son's death, a fire in Hawkins' service station and for injuries he received when he slipped on a banana peel.

Bounds said Hawkins admitted taking out a $41,000 accident policy for himself and his wife a month before her death.

He also had collected $10,750 insurance benefits on the mysterious shotgun death of his son, who was killed on a hunting trip, and had received more than $7,000 for fire damage and injuries to his family during the past 10 years, the sheriff said.

Mrs. Hawkins was killed just after she and Hawkins had returned from Bastrop, La., where they placed flowers on the grave of their son, Delton, who was killed on a deer hunting trip with his father and two other men in 1945.

After his arrest, Hawkins denied the charges and stuck to his story that his wife died accidentally when they had an accident and the car caught fire.

But Bounds said investigating officers found kerosene-soaked dirt under the car and nearby a jug that smelled of kerosene in a creekbed, several hundred feet from the car, they found a 10-pound steel rod, wrapped in adhesive tape and coated with blood. A similar rod of tape was found in Hawkins' car, the sheriff said.

Dram Shop Act Suit Asks for $7,000 Damages

A damage suit under the Dram Shop Act has been filed in Saline County Circuit Court by Floyd Gowins and David Gowins by their attorney, Arlie O. Boswell Sr. Defendants are Dave Evans, Ray Cunningham and John Baburnick.

The suit is the outgrowth of an automobile collision about a mile south of Rileyville on Feb. 27, 1954. The accident involved automobiles driven by David Gowins, son of Floyd Gowins, and John McDaniel.

It is alleged McDaniel was intoxicated at the time of the accident and had obtained liquor at the Dave Evans Package Store, located near West End and at the Curve Night club, operated by Cunningham on premises owned by Baburnick. The Curve Night club is located in West City, according to the information filed.

The Gowins' automobile was damaged and the driver, David Gowins, received injuries, the suit states, and damages of $2,000 are asked for the automobile and $5,000 for injuries suffered.

New Social Security Changes Called Biggest Advance in Setup in 15 Years

The social security amendments of 1954, which became law with the signature of President Eisenhower, represent the most significant advance for the social security system since the inception of survivors insurance 15 years ago.

Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said today.

"The American people have, for the first time, a social security program that covers nine out of ten gainfully employed workers," Mrs. Hobby said.

The passage by the Congress of President Eisenhower's recommendations for extension of the programs brings under the system 10 million more workers and represents a social gain for the nation of important dimensions.

Secretary Hobby pointed out that the inclusion of self-employed farmers, numbering 3,600,000 and numerically the largest group to be covered by the amendments, affords farmers the same opportunity to provide a measure of economic security for themselves and their families as the self-employed in industrial areas have enjoyed since 1950. Many more farm workers are also included in the new amendments.

"A comparison between 50 farm and 50 non-farm counties which we made in the Department illustrates clearly the important relationship between insurance and old age assistance," Mrs. Hobby said. "The percentage of those receiving assistance in farm counties was 31 per cent of the total population over 65. The percentage of those receiving assistance in the non-farm counties was only 17 percent."

The new amendments will have the eventual effect of reducing materially the need for public assistance in rural areas just as it has in urban areas throughout the United States.

"This is in the American tradition," Mrs. Hobby went on to say, "of making it possible for every American to contribute to his own security."

Heroic Marion Officer Saves Sailor Off Sub

John H. Spiller Makes Rescue Despite Broken Leg

NEW LONDON, Conn. (U.P.)—A Navy lieutenant was acclaimed a hero today after rescuing a sailor hurled from a submarine in Tuesday's hurricane.

The officer, John H. Spiller of Marion, Ill., made the rescue despite a broken leg and minor head injuries suffered when a wave broke over the submarine's bridge.

The wave, said to have been at least 40 feet high, knocked William H. Wehrhan, a third class torpedo man's mate, over the side, where he was suspended on a safety strap.

Spiller hoisted Wehrhan on deck and both were carried below where they were treated after advice was received by radio. The officer later was reported in good condition at the base infirmary and Wehrhan was released after treatment for shock and bruises.

The rescue occurred while the submarine Halfbeak was engaged in maneuvers off the East Coast.

REA Co-Ops Talk Project At Convention

Cave-in-Rock Entry Second in Illinois Queen Competition

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—Officials at the 13th annual convention of the Association of Illinois Electric Co-Operatives Thursday disclosed plans to build a 20 million dollar power plant in southern Illinois.

The plans were discussed by Roy Zook, assistant administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration, and R. V. Blacklock, Vergennes, president of the Illinois State-Wide Power Co-Operative, which would control the project.

Zook said the State-Wide Power Co-Operative is seeking a federal loan to finance the generating plant at a site not yet determined.

He said the plant would guarantee the co-operatives in the state-wide group a source of power, but it would be leased to private power firms for operation.

(The possibility of such a project was discussed in Harrisburg about two years ago, at a meeting of leaders from Saline, Hardin, Gallatin and White counties who joined together at the time to try to get industry into the area.)

(The power project subject was brought up at the meeting, held at the city hall, by Thomas Clevenger, manager of the Southeastern Illinois Electric co-operative. At the time he said that a site along the Ohio river in the Cave-in-Rock area was considered but that it was not definite, if such a project became a reality.)

(The meeting at the time was called to get the area to unite to try and get industry on an area basis, instead of the communities fighting each other in an attempt to secure the industry.)

Blacklock said the plant would have a generating capacity of 150,000 kilowatts. He said the three private firms involved in the plans are Central Illinois Public Service Co., Illinois Power Co., and Union Electric Co. These firms now have a power pooling arrangement by which they furnish the co-operatives power.

SELEC Included
The co-operatives which are members of the state-wide group are: Tri-County, Mount Vernon; Clay, Florida; Egyptian, Steelville; Rural Electric Convenience, Auburn; Southwestern Electric, Greenville; Southwestern Illinois, Dongola; Adams Camp Point; Menard, Petersburg; Wayne-White, Fairfield; Southeastern, Eldorado; Gales-Moultrie, Mattoon; Clinton County, Breese; and Norris, Newton.

Miss Bonnie Bunch, Kampsville, who is also Miss Illinois Fruit Queen, Thursday night was crowned Miss Illinois Electrification and will represent the state at the national REA beauty contest at Atlantic City next February.

Miss Romelle Scott, Cave-In-Rock, was second; Miss Nancy Evans, Mendon, was third. Miss Scott represented Southeastern Illinois Electric.

The winners in a talent scout contest were the Harmonettes, a girls trio from the Southern Illinois Co-Op, first; the Hill Billy Buddies of the Wayne-White Co-Op, second; and the Melodears, quartet from the Clay Electric Co-Op, third.

Attlee Not Fooled In Red China, Says British Newspaper

LONDON (U.P.)—British newspapers which had criticized a Labor party delegation's tour of Communist China changed their stand today and said it was not such a bad idea after all.

London's four million circulation tabloid Daily Mirror said the statement issued by Clement Attlee, former British prime minister and head of the delegation, at Hong Kong Thursday cast a different light on the visit.

"They didn't fool Attlee," the Mirror's bannerline said. "Americans can relax and the British Tory papers need not worry any more."

Seeks Damages as Result of Collision

Harry Moore, through his attorney, Robert V. Wilson of Eldorado, has filed a damage suit in Saline County Circuit Court as the result of an automobile collision Sept. 8, 1953. Named defendants are Teresa Prince and Ralph Prince.

The suit says that Teresa Prince backed the Ralph Prince automobile into the west bound lane of traffic on Locust street in Eldorado.

The Moore automobile, driven by Layne Gwaltney, was extensively damaged, the suit states.

Chapman Heads Board to Rule on Adduci's Claim

SPRINGFIELD (CP) — Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman will be on the spot at next Tuesday's meeting of the State Electoral Board to consider the nomination of James J. Adduci for state representative.

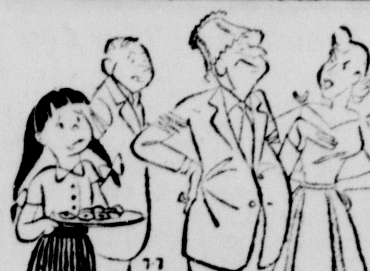

Chapman, acting governor during Gov. William G. Stratton's nine-day western trip, Thursday called another meeting of the board for 2 p. m. (CDT) Tuesday after it was learned Adduci had again been nominated.

Stratton last Tuesday headed a meeting of the five-member electoral board which ruled Adduci's first nomination by the 2nd District Senatorial Committee was invalid. They ruled Senatorial Committee-man James Bernardi actually lived outside the district.

But the chairman of the committee Wednesday night appointed two new committeemen and the "new" committee again named Adduci to fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of State Rep. James Yaeullo.

For a tighter wrap on a package, dampen the string before use. The string shrinks as it dries.

The Moore family reunion will be held Sunday at Moore's grove, on Rt. 13 west of Harrisburg. All relatives are expected and friends are invited.

New SIU Students To Start Tuesday With Orientation

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Freshmen and other new students will begin arriving at Southern Illinois University after the Labor Day weekend for six days of orientation, a battery of physical and mental tests and a round of social activities before classes get underway.

University officials are expecting nearly 1,700 students to participate in New Student Week which opens Tuesday evening. On succeeding nights, the new arrivals to the campus will hear lectures, meet the football team, and attend a square dance, movies and a talent show.

Dr. Oliver Beinfuhr, assistant professor of geography and geology, will be the speaker at the annual parents' picnic to be held on the lawn in front of Old Main Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12.

President D. W. Morris will address the new students at a convocation in Shryock Auditorium Monday, Sept. 13. Classes will begin for all students the following day and a watermelon feast will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Morris in the evening.

A total of 3,376 students signed up for fall classes on campus during a pre-registration period that ended Aug. 28. Some 600 or more additional registrations are expected.

Dulles in Manila For Parleys on Asia, Way to Protect It

ROBERT UDWICK
United Press Staff Correspondent
MANILA, P. I. (U.P.)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived from the United States today and predicted the Southeast Asia treaty conference (SEATO) opening Monday would find a way to protect Southeast Asia against aggression.
But a major controversy already has developed over how strong the anti-Communist alliance should be. Dulles' arrival added new urgency to behind-the-scenes negotiations which thus far have been unable to heal the major split between Asian and European delegates that is threatening to wreck the meeting even before it begins.
Participating Asian nations made it clear they want a strong military agreement patterned along the North Atlantic Treaty Organization line.
Some Western nations favored quick "consultations" instead of fast action in the case of new Communist aggression.
Dulles will confer with Philippine officials to work out details on the most efficient manner of implementing the mutual defense treaty between the United States and the Philippines.
Many Philippine officials believed talks between the United States and their country will be of greater significance than the SEATO conference, especially if Britain and France are successful in watering down the proposed SEATO pact.

Churchill-to-Ike Secret Report Indicated
LONDON (U.P.)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill was reported today to have sent President Eisenhower a secret report on the growing European army crisis.
Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, warned in a speech in Bonn today that the lack of a united European defense is causing a growth of "neo-isolation" in the United States.

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

MOVIES - TV - RADIO
by Erskine Johnson

NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — I finally realized my greatest ambition as a moviegoer.

I went to a movie and had a seven-course dinner — shrimp cocktail to flaming cherries jubilee — served to me at my center-section, two - off - the - aisle seat.

Another course, though and I would have had permanent scars to prove it.

An unsuspecting, popcorn-loving audience at the plush Encino Theater had come to eat and watch Shelley Winters sin in the South Seas. My tuxedoed waiter and the green salad and squab under the glass didn't fit into their plans.

But the antipopcorn element cleared me through to the dessert.

The theater made refunds to only eight indignant customers who left in what they said was a huff about the time I was sinking my teeth into a piece of noisy celery.

I was trying to prove that people should not eat at the movies and I claim a moral victory.

It was a one-man protest to popcorn-munching and candy bar-gulating at the movies.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED:

My favorite Hollywood waiter, Don Avalier, marched down the aisle with a snowy-white napkin over one arm, followed by two red-coated assistants carrying an iced shrimp cocktail.

It wasn't until the popcorn-lovers in the audience got a whiff of the squab that things started to get out of hand. Someone filled with hot kernels and the idea that he had paid to see Shelley Winters sin and not to see Johnson eat, shouted:

"Throw the bum out. We want Shelley."

Another patron stood up and announced, "I'm leaving." He did.

From that point I clung to my fork for protective rather than gustatory reasons.

THE ANTIPOPCORN contingent was still behind me.

So was the theater's manager,
but for a different reason. "Hurry up," he whispered. "Wipe your chin. They want Shelley."

I made a couple of stabs at the squab and then the cherries jubilee arrived with a hushed rush.
There were howls as Headwaiter Avalier struck a match and lit the brandy for the flaming dessert. Avalier is an actor in his spare time and has a flair for the dramatic.

But even his flair with the flare couldn't stop the gundrop set from shouting: "Wait until the fire department hears about this."

I polished off the dessert in two gulps, wiped my chin and brow and made a hasty but unbowed retreat to the lobby just as Shelley Winters took over the screen.

The theater manager was there waiting for me and he looked like he had just lost his popcorn franchise, not to mention his life savings. He was brave enough to let me realize my burning ambition to eat a seven-course dinner in a movie theater, but he hadn't counted on some of his customers not getting the joke.

HE WAS FRANTIC about the refunds to eight customers, and then assured me he had the best-tasting popcorn in town. He even invited me back to the theater "without dinner."

He was very emphatic about this, and I don't blame him. I'll have to admit things got rather tense during the squab course.
How can popcorn compete with squab under glass?

"I'm sorry I couldn't wait to see the movie. But here's my review of the dinner: 'Perfectly served, well cast. The shrimp was outstanding and may get a long-term contract at MGM.'"

"The squab's figure was out of

75,000-Watt Bulb Will Be at New York Fair

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — (AP) — The largest incandescent light in the world — a 75,000-watt lamp — will be on display at the State Fair here Sept. 4-11.

The huge light was made by the General Electric Co. and will be on view as part of the electrical industry's observance of the 75th anniversary of Edison's invention.

G. E. spokesmen say the three-and-one-half-foot bulb equals the light of 2,874 60-watt household bulbs burning simultaneously. It uses as much electrical energy as is normally required to light 83 homes.

New Social Security Law Big Advance

Education, and Welfare are working on an emergency basis to insure that the 6,600,000 who are to receive higher payments as the result of the amendments will receive them on schedule early in October, Secretary Hobby said.
The retired worker benefits voted by the Congress range from $30 to $98.50 per month. Families of retired workers, and survivors of those who have died will also get increases.

The monthly rate of benefit payments to these 6,600,000 beneficiaries will rise from $282,900,000 during August to $318,731,000 for September, an increase of something over $35,000,000 or slightly more than 12 and one half percent.

Among other significant changes brought about by the new amendments, Mr. Hobby pointed out, is a provision that permits retired workers to earn more money than heretofore to supplement their incomes without loss of monthly social security payments. Beginning in 1955 beneficiaries may earn at least $1,200 a year without loss of any monthly checks. Under the old law they were permitted to earn only $75.00 a month.

Another change permits the elimination of up to five years of low or no earnings in computing the average earnings on which social security payments are based.
